Did you know?

Way back in [1974], Sir Elton John wrote a hit song for his good friend Billie Jean King.
I believe their conversation went something like this:
ELTON: "I want to write you a song, what are we gonna call it?"
BILLIE JEAN: "I don't know!"
ELTON: "How about 'Philadelphia Freedom'?" BJK was co-founder of World Team Tennis and captain of her team the Philadelphia Freedoms. Elton used to come to watch them play, he also taught BJK how to play 'air guitar' on her tennis racquet. [Ok, I may have made that last one up :)]
